

Your Listing Activity and Listing History Reports have a new look

Present your clients visually striking materials

CRMLS is always working to improve your Flexmls experience. On February 15th, the Listing Activity Reports and Listing History Reports will feature a fresh, updated look.

The new report designs are modernized, more legible, easier to print, and read better for your clients, all while remaining close enough to earlier report designs that you don't have to relearn how to read them.

You don't have to do anything different to acquire these elegant new designs – they will generate automatically with your current workflow. Compare the "before" and "after" examples below to see the improvements in each report:

This redesign continues the enhancements CRMLS is implementing to keep Flexmls modernized and convenient. You can always check out our collection of Knowledgebase articles for more information on ongoing upgrades, and consult our dedicated YouTube playlist for more Flexmls tips.

CRMLS is excited to bring you the benefits of these new report designs and looks forward to bringing you more improvements in the future.
