

Still have some questions about your new dashboard?

CRMLS has you covered. Read below for the info you need.

By now, you've heard of REcenterhub, the new and improved dashboard you can use to access all of your products, services, and your MLS system from one place. You've probably even logged in and used it a few times, and you might still have some questions.

CRMLS is here to help! Here are answers to some of the most frequent questions that users like you have had in the first few weeks of REcenterhub's debut:

Where does the Market Statistics info come from?

The Market Stats displayed in REcenterhub come from CRMLS's own MLS system data, including our data share partners, focusing on the Residential market. You can see the scope of our coverage area that we draw data from on this map.

How do I manage my product tiles?

You heard so much about REcenterhub's customization options – now how do you actually customize those product tiles?!

When viewing your dashboard, you will find a symbol at the top right of your product section that looks like this:

If you click on the plus sign, a sidebar will roll out of the righthand side of your screen – almost like a drawer. This sidebar has all of your available product solutions. You can make these appear on your dashboard by clicking the 'star' underneath each tile, turning it yellow; and you can remove them by clicking the 'star' again, so it turns gray. Don't worry – this only removes the tile from appearing in your product section, you won't remove the product entirely!

You can rearrange the tiles in your product section by clicking, dragging, and dropping them with your cursor. To see this in action, watch this video, and for more detailed info, consult our REcenterhub user guide.

Where is the California Association of REALTORS® (CAR) tile?

You can find the CAR tile in the product side bar – you can access it by clicking the 'plus' icon on the righthand side of the product section on your dashboard. The sidebar will slide out, and you can click the CAR tile to go directly to the CAR website. You can also hit the 'star' under the CAR tile to make sure it appears in the product section on your dashboard.
