RealReports—often called the “AI-powered Carfax for homes”—consolidates comprehensive property information into a single, easy-to-read report.

At the core of every RealReport is Aiden, your AI property advisor, capable of analyzing millions of data points, documents, and photos to answer property-specific questions in real time. This powerful new tool is a game-changer, helping you showcase your expertise and deliver even more value to your clients.

Once your association opts in for RealReports, follow these simple steps to start using it right away.
