Days on Market (DOM) is now Days Active in MLS (DAM)

Read below to learn more about the change

Preview:Recipient:Name,

CRMLS is continually evolving, which occasionally means we rethink the names and terms we use to better reflect the reality of what they represent. As such, we have retitled two common MLS statistics to more accurately describe what the numbers represent.

Effective today, June 3, the following terms have changed:

- Days on Market (DOM) is now Days Active in MLS (DAM)
- Cumulative Days on Market (CDOM) is now Cumulative Days Active in MLS (CDAM)

The calculation method for these terms will stay the same, so the way DOM was calculated as of yesterday is the same way DAM is calculated as of today. You are not required to take any action; this change will be made in the backend of the MLS.

We hope you find this new terminology helpful and thank you for your continued support.
